

Mt. Everest Expedition (8848m)

Climb Mt Everest, the penultimate high altitude adventure.

With a combined total of over 60 summits of this incredible mountain, our team are ready to guide you to the top of the world

Mt Everest (8848m) is the ultimate high-altitude mountaineering adventure, and an incredible feat sought by avid, high-level adventurers around the world. Scaling the highest mountain on earth is a phenomenal, often life-changing experience but one that should never be underestimated. It requires serious commitment, discipline, prior experience, a high level of physical fitness and a positive mindset.

Choosing the right expedition company who instills trust, confidence and delivers your adventure according to a style that works best for you, is paramount to your success and doing your research is vitally important in giving you the greatest chance of achieving your dream.

Everest One is committed to helping you stand on top of the world and we are the only Australian company delivering professionally led expeditions above 8000m.

We believe that each climber should be a good fit for the team, and possess the attributes that make you a valuable, productive and positive member, who enjoys spending considerable time with like-minded, determined individuals.

If you have the dream, we have the team to make it happen.

About Everest One

Everest One are an expert high-altitude expedition company and the only Australian provider delivering climbs above 8000m. We have been involved in the mountaineering business for over 15 years, and in that time have built the most experienced, professional Sherpa team on the mountain.

We pride ourselves on truly personalized service, not only with our mountaineering guides on a minimum of a 1:1 ratio, small group sizes (max - 8), quality equipment, great food and maximum oxygen but also support in the lead up to and during your adventure.

We are committed to your safety and success, in that order, and take our responsibility of taking care of you very seriously.

You will never be climbing alone, with your own dedicated Sherpa guide climbing by your side for the entire expedition.

> Your adventure begins here

Establishing a close relationship between our Sherpa guides and clients is imperative.

To reinforce this cohesion and trust, we keep our group size small.

Climbing the highest mountains in the world is not an undertaking Everest One take lightly, having worked for more than 15 years in the Himalayas, whilst building a reputable, trusted company and having handpicked the best high altitude climbing Sherpas in Nepal.

We can confidently say that we have one of the strongest support teams on the mountain.

Our Head Guide and Expedition Leader, Phunuru Sherpa, has led 42 expeditions above 8000m, having scaled Everest an incredible 16 times, and is the current world record holder with 19 summits of Cho Oyu (8201m), along with numerous climbs of other 8000m peaks.

Our High Altitude Sherpa guides, who all come from the famous Sherpa village of Phortse, have worked on more than 175 expeditions above 8000m, with a combined total of 60+ summits of Everest, 22 of Manaslu and numerous other 8000m peaks including Makalu, K2, Broad Peak, Lhotse and Cho Oyu.

Allan Cohrs, who is the owner of Everest One and an experienced Expedition Manager and Guide, has led more than 25 expeditions in the Himalayas, including summits of 8000m peaks, including Mt Everest.

We treat our responsibility of taking care of you very seriously, which is why we strictly ensure you will be part of a small team of climbers.

Our philosophy is simple.

Having a small, manageable group size, supported by the best guides, comfortable accommodation, excellent equipment, nutritious food with a strong focus on planning and safety, allows us to provide close personal care throughout your adventure, ultimately giving you a higher chance of success.

What makes the difference

Your climb will be run by an experienced Expedition Manager and an Expedition Leader, who together will plan your climb according to the conditions.

You will be climbing 1:1 with an experienced, high-altitude Sherpa guide, with multiple summits of Everest, who is caring, compassionate and strong and also possesses high level technical and communication skills. He is not merely a climbing companion, but an expert in the field, taking close personal care of you throughout your expedition.

You will receive 8 bottles of oxygen with the option to purchase additional bottles, whilst we will also cache reserves up on the mountain.

In Base Camp, you will have your own box tent, complete with a 6 inch mattress and carpeted floor, whilst up on the mountain, we use high-quality 3 person dome tents, which you will share with one other climber.

> Our approach

Why choose Everest One?

The only Australian company offering 8000m climbing expeditions

Everest One have been guiding treks and climbs in the Himalayas for over 15 years, with great success along with an outstanding safety record.

We do not just take anyone who applies. We need to know that you are capable and have the required experience to safely undertake the adventure you sign up for. Taking this approach means smaller groups, plus giving you the added confidence that your fellow climbers are capable and prepared. This allows our team to be more dynamic and flexible on the mountain, and not be forced to join long queues of climbers all pushing at the same time for that perfect weather window.

As the only Australian expedition company offering you the chance to climb above 8000m, you can feel at ease knowing that we are only a phone call away, and also giving you the opportunity to get to know your guides and fellow climbers long before you embark on your journey.

We streamline the process, sorting out all logistics allowing you to focus on the important things, from gear preparation and training, travel insurance, visas and travel advice and we are always available to guide you through all the phases, long before you arrive in Nepal.

The climbing team for Mt Everest alone have incredible experience with more than 175 expeditions above 8000m, including 60 plus summits of Mt Everest, giving you assurance that you are in the very best of hands.

Meeting Your Expectations

Climbing any mountain, but particularly above 8000m involves a degree of risk. For this reason, we prepare our itinerary as a guide that is subject to change depending on the weather and other conditions on the mountain, including your own personal health.

We closely monitor the weather, with long range forecasting, and plan our rotations and final summit push according to those conditions.

Having the flexibility allows us to adapt and move up the mountain when we consider it the safest and the best time to do so.

There is never a guarantee of success during any expedition, and climbers need to accept that we are dealing with mother nature, and she always has the final say.

Your safety is paramount. The mountains will always be there.

> Why Everest One?

This expedition requires excellent fitness, stamina, and prior mountaineering experience.

You should be able to demonstrate strong endurance, both physically and mentally.

> Expedition Breakdown

Approach (11 days)

After spending 2 days in Kathmandu we will fly to Lukla and commence our trek to Everest Base Camp follows a proven itinerary, allowing you to adjust to the altitude and gain some extra mountain fitness along the way. We stay in the same teahouses we have used for more than a decade, focusing on your health, hygiene and quality food and accommodation.

Base camp (3 days)

Our Everest Base Camp is comfortable and well-equipped and will be your home for over a month. Each climber will have their own individual box tent with comfortable mattress and a carpeted floor, giving you plenty of room to spread out and stand up. We will gather in our heated and carpeted dining room for meals and a separate, similarly outfitted communication and meeting tent with internet facilities. Here you can chill with fellow climbers, watch movies, check email, and stay in touch with home. In addition, it has become a climbing tradition in the Himalayas for all groups to conduct a small Buddhist ceremony (Puja) to offer thanks to the mountain, and to ask for safe passage on the climb.

Lobuche East climb (5 days)

In preparing for our climb, we will head back down to Lobuche where we set up our Base Camp and High Camp, and also incorporate and refresh with some basic climbing skills training. This climb is great for acclimatising above 6000m and also allows us to avoid an extra rotation through the Khumbu Icefall.

Climb (approx. 34 days)

After we settle in at base camp, we will proceed with checking and testing all of our climbing equipment and skills training before our first rotation through the higher camps. Our rotations will include spending nights progressively higher on the mountain as we climb and familiarize ourselves with the route. Meanwhile, our Sherpas will set up and stock higher camps (C1-C4) with essential supplies needed for the climb. As we get ready, we will alternately rest and climb, giving ourselves the preparation necessary for the best chance of success. Once we are well-acclimatised and our camps are set, we will take some extra time to rest in base camp, before going for the summit. A number of contingency days are also built into our itinerary which may not be required but are an essential inclusion.

Pack up and trek to Lukla / Return to Kathmandu (7 days)

After the climb, we will descend to Lukla and fly back to Kathmandu, where you will have a few days to relax and chill before returning home.

> Trip Overview

Leaders don't force people to follow, they invite them on a journey and lead them to achieve their goals

> Allan Cohrs Expedition Manager

As a guide in the Himalayas, Africa, South America and Australia, Allan delivers a personalized service, focused on providing a safe, professional experience for his clients.

He has guided in all corners of the globe with over 25 high altitude climbs in the Himalayas including Mt Everest (8850m), Lhotse (8516m), Cho Oyu (8200m), Baruntse (7162m) and Ama Dablam (6812m), along with 10 climbs of Mera Peak (6476m), 6 climbs of Lobuche East and Island Peak and numerous other 6000m+ climbs including Aconcagua, the highest peak in South America and 14 successful summits of Mt Kilimanjaro.

Together with expert guides and climbers (all with 8000m summits) under his leadership and Everest One banner, Allan encourages and motivates his clients with a positive mindset to believe in themselves, dig deeper when the journey seems to get tougher, ultimately aiming to lead them to the summit, but most importantly prioritizing on everyone's safety and well being from start to finish.

Sherpa Culture

Known as “Eastern People” in Tibet, Sherpas were nomads who migrated and settled in the Solukhumbu region around 500 years ago from Tibet.

Their culture (i.e. dialect, dress and food) is similar to Tibetan, which is in stark contrast to the Hindu ethnic groups that are the majority in Nepal.

With a culture deeply rooted in Buddhism, Sherpas have a strong respect for the mountains and its spirits. First employed as high altitude porters on early Himalayan mountaineering expeditions, Sherpas are now by their own rights, well regarded accomplished climbers.

Team Safety and Trek Support

This climb reaches a maximum altitude of 8848m. As such, you will experience some effects of high altitude e.g. headaches, increased breathing, disturbed sleep as your body adapts.

The climbing schedule has been designed to allow for proper acclimatisation. However, everyone responds to high altitude differently, walk slow, drink plenty of water (5L/day), eat, listen to your body and alert your guide if you are feeling unwell.

Your guide will be carrying a well stocked first aid kit along the trail. It will contain commonly used medication including ibuprofen and general antibiotics along with oxygen. Steps to staying healthy and avoid bacterial/parasitic infections include eating/drinking from hygienic venues, safe preparation of meals and maintaining personal hygiene and sanitation.

Experience at the highest level delivered with calmness, careful planning and your safety in mind

> Phunuru Sherpa Expedition Leader

Phunuru Sherpa is from the village of Phortse, famous for producing some of the finest Sherpa guides in Nepal. He has been working as an Expedition Leader for more than 15 years, and is focused on safety, careful planning, leading a strong team and providing exemplary support and attention to clients.

He is a highly experienced, senior head guide (Sirdar), having led 42 expeditions above 8000m. Some of his achievements include summits of the following mountains:

Current world record holder with 19 summits of Cho Oyu (8201m) in Tibet, 16 x Everest (8848m), 3 x Lhotse (8516m), 3 x Manaslu (8163m), 1 x Shishapangma (8027m), 18 x Ama Dablam (6812m)

Phunuru was the first Nepalese climbing Ranger in the USA, having worked in 11 different National Parks in the States. He holds the record of 6 summits of Denali, the highest peak in the USA.

He has reached the summit of Aconcagua, the highest peak in South America 4 times, along with Kilimanjaro, the highest peak in Africa an incredible 22 times.

Phunuru is a lead instructor and Educational Director of the Khumbu Climbing Center in Phortse. He is also certified in Long Line Rescue and Wilderness First Aid.

Our Sherpa Team

Our handpicked team of high altitude climbers are some of the most experienced and professional guides on the mountain. Without having a strong, reliable climbing and support team around you, your chances of success are heavily reduced.

This approach adopted by Everest One gives you the confidence and assurance to move forward and chase your dreams.

Our Expedition Leader, Phunuru Sherpa has led 42 expeditions above 8000m, having scaled Everest an incredible 16 times, and is the current world record holder with 19 summits of Cho Oyu (8201m), along with numerous climbs of other 8000m peaks including Lhotse x 3, Manaslu x 3 and Shishapangma.

The remainder of our team, made up of 4 High Altitude Sherpa guides have worked on 134 expeditions above 8000m, with a combined total of 42 summits of Everest, 22 of Manaslu and numerous other 8000m peaks including Makalu, K2, Broad Peak, Lhotse and Cho Oyu.

We also have additional Sherpa guides if required, possessing the same level of expertise, along with a strong Porter team, expert cooks and support staff.

> Your trip leaders

Extra packages for Oxygen, Sherpa Support and Helicopters

> Oxygen

Everest One use Summit Oxygen supplementary oxygen systems, complete with Himalayan Oxygen cylinder, Himalayan Regulator and Himalayan Facemask, developed specifically for the extreme high altitude mountaineer.

Each climber is provided with 8 oxygen cylinders as standard, allowing for an increased flow rate on the summit bid. We also carry additional reserves which are cached higher on the mountain and used for emergency purposes.

You also have the option to purchase additional oxygen cylinders, allowing for the use of oxygen lower down on the mountain.

Cost: USD$500 per additional oxygen cylinder.

> Sherpa Support

Each climber joining Everest One on an Everest expedition is teamed with an expert Sherpa guide, who has extensive experience on the mountain, including numerous summits in a guiding capacity.

Your climbing Sherpa is not a companion on your climb, and rather takes an active role in guiding you through each phase whilst providing close personal care.

Our Expedition Leader and Expedition Manager also climb with the team, providing additional support for the climbers.

If you feel you require or would prefer an additional Sherpa to accompany you on your climb, we can also provide this service.

Cost: USD$10,000 per additional Sherpa guide

> Helicopter Transfer from EBC

If you would prefer to fly out from Everest Base Camp, once the expedition has ended, you have the option to book this service, either from EBC to Kathmandu or EBC to Lukla.

The cost varies depending on the number of passengers, but as a guide you could expect to pay (approx):

EBC to Kathmandu – USD$1000 per person based on 5 passengers

EBC to Lukla – USD$500 per person based on 5 passengers

This service can be arranged in Everest Base Camp at any time.

Aside from the incredible scenery, spending time high up on the mountain is incredibly rewarding, emotional and a true privilege.

> Small Cohesive Team

Mt Everest is a serious mountain. You'll find a number of large expeditions on the mountain, with as many as 30+ climbers and 40 Sherpas in a single team. For a multitude of reasons, that's not how we operate.

By having a small team of climbers, we are able to move more efficiently on the mountain, have greater flexibility, we have the capacity to allow input from team members regarding decision making and therefore, are able to have a much greater chance to summit as a team.

You'll get to know everyone, both fellow climbers and Sherpas closely throughout the course of the expedition, who will become your family.

With Everest One, we'll have one experienced Sherpa for each climber and they will guide you throughout your rotations. We'll be in this journey together every step of the way, giving you the confidence and peace of mind to climb to the top of the world.

Important notes on Health, Sleep, Food, Gear and Climate

> Staying Healthy

It's vitally important to protect your health on the Everest Expedition, and Everest One owner and guide, Allan Cohrs, is an experienced climber, leader and manager, having led expeditions on Everest and Lhotse.

He and his team monitor the team's performance, conduct regular oxygen saturation readings and ensure the team members are eating well, stay hydrated, obtain quality sleep, sufficient rest and are at full strength during each phase of the climb.

Such knowledge is an invaluable resource, especially higher up on the mountain without an easy access to base camp ER facilities.

Our Sherpas are also well-trained in all aspects of hygiene, to ensure that you don't come down with a stomach bug the day before you leave base camp for the summit. Having a smaller team also assists in this regard.

> Climate

During the trek to base camp in spring, the weather is mild during the day and extremely cold at night.

In base camp, day temperatures can range between 15 degrees C to below zero, and it may snow at times. Nights are cold and can drop to -10 degrees C. Above 7000m and particularly above 8000m, temperatures can drop dramatically, falling as low as -30 degrees C.

The weather can change quickly, which is why it is important to monitor the forecasts closely.

> Sleep and Food

On the trek to EBC, you will stay in comfortable teahouses, where we have stayed for many years. These provide basic accommodation, common toilets and a large common dining hall. Teahouse kitchens cater for international and local tastes, from pizzas/pastas to typical Nepali favorites. Other facilities including showers, internet, battery charging and laundry are sometimes available for an extra cost.

You'll end up spending a fair bit of time in base camp as you rest in between a number of rotations, waiting for a suitable summit window. We provide a comfortable, healthy environment at base camp so that you can focus on getting prepared for your summit push. We have a dedicated base camp cook who prepares delicious and high-quality meals. We also have a waiter, always available to help out with any special requests. People regularly comment that the best food is in base camp, which is so important, ensuring you maintain your strength.

Your Kathmandu accommodation is a 4-5 star hotel. Note that meals (except for breakfast) in Kathmandu are not included in the cost. Plan for USD10-15 per meal on these days.

> Gear

Familiarity and comfort using your personal equipment is paramount to summit success. We recommend that you test drive your gear before joining this expedition. Keeping your body, face, feet and hands warm in reliable gear during cold weather above 8000m can make or break your Everest dreams. Please scroll down to see recommended items on our Gear List page and email us about specific brands or models we know works well on 8000m peaks.

Mt Everest Expedition Itinerary

> DAY 1 ARRIVE IN KATHMANDU, NEPAL

Your adventure begins here. An Everest One representative will collect you from the airport. It's a free day to recover from your international flight. We can also use this time to arrange local money exchange, pick up a phone card or grab any supplies.

Later in the evening, there will be a group briefing, full gear check and welcome group dinner.

> DAY 2 EXPLORE KATHMANDU

This is a free day for you to either explore the crazy, yet wondrously beautiful city of Kathmandu or attend to final packing, gear preparation or purchasing any additional equipment or gear you may require. We provide you with a duffel bag for your trekking gear and you will need an additional bag for your climbing gear which will be sent ahead to Everest Base Camp.

> DAY 3 FLY TO LUKLA AND TREK MONJO

Our trip begins with an early morning flight to Lukla that takes approximately 30 minutes. The flight travels over endless rolling hills covered with green terraces. Once in Lukla, we have a short break to organise porters and gear before starting our first day's walk, descending and ascending to Monjo. We pass green villages and colourful maniwalls as we follow the Dudh Kosi River upstream. This region is Buddhist so remember to walk clockwise or to the right of maniwalls and prayer poles. Monjo is an apple farming village situated near the base of the hill up to Namche.

Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 2840m

> DAY 4 TREK FROM MONJO TO NAMCHE

Before leaving Monjo, we'll drop into the Khumbu National Park Information Centre where you can trace our trail from a 3D model of the region. The route crosses several steel suspension bridges covered with katas, white well-wishing scarves and prayer flags. From the last bridge, it's a 2-3 hour hike up to Namche. On a clear day, you can catch your first view of Everest from a lookout about mid-way up the hill. Once in Namche, you have the afternoon to rest, do souvenir shopping or relax and take in the view. Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 3440m

> DAY 5 ACCLIMATISATION DAY IN NAMCHE

We spend an extra day in Namche before trekking higher to allow our bodies to adjust to the lower levels of oxygen in the air. In the morning, we will walk up to the Everest View Hotel to enjoy a panoramic view of Everest, Ama dablam and Thamserku. It's just a taster for the spectacular scenery to come! From here, you can explore the villages of Khunde and Khumjung where Sir Edmund Hillary opened a hospital and school, respectively. Or the afternoon is free for wandering around Namche, emailing friends/family or relaxing over coffee and cakes in the bakery. Height 3440m

> DAY 6 TREK FROM NAMCHE TO PHORTSE

The trail behind Namche is a gentle track that traverses high above the Imja River overlooking views of Thamserku and Ama dablam. We pass a chorten in memory of Tenzing Norgay, Sir Edmund Hillary's climbing partner, before reaching Kyangjuma to break for morning tea. We split from the regular traffic of trekkers heading to Everest Base Camp by taking the higher road up to Mong for lunch enroute to Phortse.

Many villagers still depend on potato and buckwheat farming here, but Phortse is also known for producing many climbing Sherpas to supplement incomes. Since 2003, the Khumbu Climbing School which operates in Phortse has trained many keen young men and women. Every winter, renowned international climbers and local guides work together to run climbing courses. The partnership has not only increased climbing enthusiasm amongst locals, but has also improved general climbing safety. Afternoon to rest and relax.

Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 3810m

> DAY 7 TREK FROM PHORTSE TO PANGBOCHE

Heading out of Phortse you will see Cho Oyu, the sixth highest mountain in the world up the Ngozumba glacier leading to Gokyo lakes. The trail to Pangboche can be a more of a challenging day traversing with views of Tengboche monastery just across the valley. Pangboche is the highest permanent settlement with the oldest monastery in the Khumbu. The scenery from here to Lobuche is dominated by Ama dablam (6856m), one of the most picturesque mountains in the Khumbu, that is technically demanding to climb. Trekking Time 3.5 Hours >> Height 3930m

> DAY 8 TREK FROM PANGBOCHE TO DINGBOCHE

As we hike up the track towards Dingboche, there's a distinct change in the landscape as we cross the 4000m barrier. High altitude scrubs replace trees and formidable mountains suddenly appear within reach. You feel instantly that Everest must be close! Dingboche is the first of a series of settlements leading to Everest Base Camp established to accommodate trekkers. It is a seasonal village with a few fields and yaks. Play a game of snooker and do some much needed laundry. There are a few bakeries you can try too.

Trekking Time 4 Hours >> Height 4410m

> Mt Everest Expedition: Itinerary

Climbing Lobuche East is the ideal mountain to refresh your skills, acclimatise and avoid an extra trip through the Khumbu Icefall

> DAY 9 ACCLIMATISATION IN DINGBOCHE

We take a rest day in Dingboche to acclimatise. In the morning, we'll trek to the summit of Nangkartshang Peak (5083m) to acclimatise. It's a steep, winding climb but we take it slow and the views of Makalu (8463m), Lhotse (8501m), Nuptse (7861m) and on clear days, Cho Oyu (8201m) and Shispangma (8013m) are worth any feelings of breathlessness. After lunch you can rest and visit one of the local bakeries or just chill out.

Trekking Time 5 hours - Height 4410m

> DAY 10 TREK FROM DINGBOCHE TO LOBUCHE

Just above Dingboche and along a plateau of yak herder shelters, we enter a serene sanctuary of panoramic mountains. Take a moment to absorb the feelings of excitement that Everest is just around the corner! Passing Dughla, it's a one hour hike up to Thokla pass (4830m) where memorials have been built for fallen climbers. We then cross rocky terrain to Lobuche for the night. Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 4910m

> DAY 11 TREK LOBUCHE TO EVEREST BASE CAMP

The journey to EBC from Lobuche is a relatively gentle ascent of rocky terrain that follows across and along the Khumbu glacier, and passes through Gorak Shep. This pile of rocks sitting at the foot of the infamous Khumbu Icefall in Spring will become your home for more than a month as we prepare to climb Everest. We will spend 2 nights at the Everest One camp, settling in and setting up your home, which will include your own stand-alone box tent, complete with thick mattress and carpeted floor along with becoming comfortable with your surrounding and meeting your support team. Trekking Time 6 Hours >> Height 5364m

> DAY 12 REST DAY IN EVEREST BASE CAMP

This is a day to fully explore EBC or just rest. It is also a good time to unpack, set up your new home, and prepare your equipment for the acclimatisation climb of Lobuche East, which we undertake early in the expedition.

This climb will position you well, with the chance to climb above 6000m and also reduces an additional rotation through the Khumbu Icefall.

We'll venture into lower reaches of the Khumbu Ice-fall and understand why this is one of the most dangerous sections on the South route to Everest.

In Everest Base Camp - Height 5364m

> DAY 13 TREK EBC TO LOBUCHE (OPTIONAL CLIMB KALA PATAR)

Today we head back down the valley where the views of Pumori (7165m), and Nuptse (7861m) and clearly visible. However, Everest and Lhotse are largely blocked by the face of Nuptse. To see these mountains, we must climb another vantage point known as Kala Patar or 'Black Rock'. It will be an early start from EBC to reach Kala Patar summit at 5550m. The summit provides a close and unobstructed view of Everest and Lhotse, undoubtedly a worthy reward for making the strenuous climb to the summit. We drop back down to Gorak Shep for a snack before making the decent to Lobuche.

Tonight we will stay in a teahouse you are already familiar with for a night before we head off in the morning to set up our Lobuche East Base Camp, and start preparing equipment and training.

Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 4910m

> DAY 14 IN LOBUCHE BASE CAMP

Today we enter the serene sanctuary of panoramic mountains where we set up a dedicated Base Camp in preparation of our climb of Lobuche East. We will spend the afternoon doing some basic training, focusing on glacial travel, crampon and rope skills and checking equipment. We will get an early night in to rest ourselves for the first part of the climb.

Trekking Time 3 Hours >> Height 5100m

> DAY 15 CLIMB LOBUCHE BASE CAMP TO HIGH CAMP

After crossing the grassy meadow to the foot of Lobuche Peak, we ascend steeply on a rocky trail to a col for lunch (approx.4 hours at 5500m). From here, we can appreciate magnificent views of Everest, Lhotse and Nuptse. To reach high camp along the start of the summit ridge, it's another 1.5-2 hr rock scramble or snow trek depending on conditions. We may even attempt to climb a little higher, if the conditions are suitable, providing us with a private camp, and also a shorter summit push the next day. Do not miss the stunning sunset view from high camp.

Trekking Time 5 Hours >> Height 5700m

> DAY 16 SUMMIT LOBUCHE EAST & RETURN LOBUCHE BASE CAMP

Summit day begins with an alpine start at 3am for breakfast and gear preparation before our summit climb. We leave camp by 4am and walk up the ridge for 50m to a face. Climbing on fixed lines up the 45 degrees snow wall, we then reach the ridge proper. We follow the ridge around seracs (snow/ice climb) to the 1st or false summit.

> Mt Everest Expedition: 58 days

Mt Everest Climbing Summary

Note:

The following is a guide only and can change throughout the expedition.

Your daily schedule will be carefully and strategically planned by your Expedition Manager and Expedition Leader, and will be subject to the conditions on the mountain.

Our itinerary incorporates a number of contingency days, to allow for weather and your personal health.

We aim to conduct the rotations up on the mountain as a group. As you will have your own expert Sherpa guide, and in the event you are not feeling well, you will have the flexibility to move up the mountain at a time that works for you, subject to the conditions, without feeling pressured.

> DAY 19-22 EVEREST BASE CAMP

We will spend the next 4 days resting and preparing our equipment in Base Camp along with our Puja (Buddhist blessing).

We will focus on eating well, hydration, quality sleep and rest.

We will also commence our training program, using an ice-wall in the lower reaches of the Khumbu Icefall, where we will hone our skills on crossing ladders, basic rope skills, ice-climbing, use of crampons, and being comfortable with our equipment including using the Jumar and rappelling device whilst wearing our gloves/mitts.

It is vitally important that you are competent and familiar with the use your gear and equipment during the climb.

> DAY 23-51 CLIMBING PERIOD

As we have trained and also completed our acclimatisation climb of Lobuche East, the next month or so will involve commencing our rotations up on the mountain, mixed with periods of rest.

During this time, we will slowly make our way up to the higher camps on the mountain, whilst gaining strength, confidence and acclimatising for the final summit bid.

This will involve 3 rotations, each time gaining extra altitude. Once we have reached Camp 3, at around 7300m, we will descend and rest in Base Camp, monitoring the conditions before moving back up when the weather window is ideal.

There are a number of contingency days built into this phase of the program, allowing us to schedule our movements according to the conditions.

> DAY 52 REST DAY AND PACK

A deserved rest in Everest Base Camp to recover from the summit climb before we begin packing up our home away from home.

Note: In the event that we require further time on the mountain for the climb, there is an option to stay longer, and return to Lukla or Kathmandu via helicopter.

Climbers can also opt for the use of a helicopter in lieu of trek back to Lukla.

This add-on is a personal choice for the climber and involves an additional cost.

> DAY 53 - 55

TREK FROM EBC TO LUKLA (OPTION FOR HELICOPTER TRANSFER)

Today, we commence the long trek back to Lukla, spending nights in Pheriche, Namche then Lukla.

> DAY 56-57 FLY FROM LUKLA TO KATHMANDU

Today, we fly back to the hustle and bustle of Kathmandu, where we will transfer to our comfortable hotel.

This is a great opportunity to relax and reflect on your efforts during the expedition.

Taking in a massage, a hot shower, and a final meal with a few drinks is a fantastic way to cap off what has been an extraordinary adventure.

> DAY 58 DEPART KATHMANDU

Time to depart crazy Kathmandu returning to friends and family back home.

Gear selection for Everest expedition

Choosing the right gear

When it comes time for selecting your gear, this can quite often be the most confusing and difficult part of the preparation.

There are so many choices and opinions, with sales staff offering differing advice, that it can quickly become overwhelming.

Having the right gear and equipment is essential for your safety and comfort up on the mountain, and getting it wrong could have serious implications. Everest One provide you with a detailed gear list and will help you through the selection process.

Phunuru Sherpa, our Expedition Leader, is a Brand Ambassador for a leading Nepalese gear provider, and we can arrange for you to purchase specialist clothing items or have them made for you in Nepal.

We provide you with an Everest One light-weight down jacket, a fleece hoodie, t-shirt, cap, beanie and duffel bag as part of your package.

We also have exclusive arrangements with a number of leading outdoor gear and equipment specialists, and can offer you discounts when attending these locations.

When it comes to some items, like 8000m boots, down suits and sleeping bags, finding the gear or latest version can sometimes be difficult.

We have connections with some of the leading distributors of specialised equipment in Nepal, and can make arrangements to have this gear ordered and ready for your collection once you arrive for your expedition.

Terms & Conditions

1) Booking Form: By You completing the Booking Form, submitting it to EO, and EO's acceptance of it by written reply, You agree to the terms and conditions contained in this document to the exclusion of all other terms and conditions not in this document, unless they are set out in the Booking Form, and/or otherwise agreed to in writing by You and EO (the parties).

2) Prior dealings and variations: Any prior dealings between the parties and the terms and conditions that apply to those dealings do not apply to the Adventure. Any variation of these Terms and Conditions must be agreed in writing by You and EO and, in the case of EO, the signatory must be duly authorized by EO to agree to the relevant variation.

3) Price: the price of the Adventure is outlined in the Trip Notes or has otherwise been notified to You in writing. The inclusions for the Adventure are listed in the Trip Notes. The price quoted is in AUD dollars and is payable by cash or direct deposit into EO's nominated bank account. You will be liable for all bank charges that may be levied on direct deposits. Every endeavour will be made by EO not to change the Price. However, if there is a change to the exchange rate or local conditions, EO reserves the right to change the Price.

4) Timing to Payment: Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the Price is payable as follows:

a) 30% or nominated deposit at the time You submit the Booking Form to EO; and

b) The balance no later than 60 days prior to the first day of the Adventure, or such other date as EO in its absolute discretion may agree (i.e. Where You book the Adventure closer to the first day of Adventure); or

c) If the Booking Form is submitted to EO within the 90 day period prior to the first day of Adventure, the Price is payable at the time the Booking Form is submitted, or such other date as EO in its absolute discretion may agree.

5) Transfer: if You book for this Adventure and decide to transfer to another adventure with EO that is at that time advertised by EO and the start date of that other adventure is not more than 12 months after the start date of this Adventure, then EO will agree to transfer your payment across to the new Adventure provided that your written notice of the change is received no later than 90 days prior to the date that the Adventure You initially booked was due to start or such other date as EO in its absolute discretion may agree.

6) Cancellation by You:

a) Payments made by You for your Adventure are forfeitable or refundable as follows. If You cancel:

- i) 90 days or more prior to the first day of your Adventure – You forfeit your full deposit and any other non-refundable items.
- ii) 60 days or more but less than 90 days prior to the first day of your Adventure – 50% of the Price is refundable or forfeitable.
- iii) Less than 60 days prior to the commencement of your Adventure – 100% of the Price payable by You will be forfeitable (or forfeited, if paid) to EO.
- iv) If You cancel within 60 days, please remember that we have invested your funds in good faith to allow your adventure to proceed and therefore cannot offer You a refund. You can however obtain a credit note which can be transferred to another adventure within 12 months.

b) The Price is quoted as a package and no partial refunds will be made for any services not used or for any early exit by You from the Adventure. If any part of the Price is to be forfeited to EO but has not at the relevant time been paid by You then EO reserves the right to recover that amount from You as a debt due and payable.

c) Depending on the reason for cancellation, you may be able to reclaim these cancellation charges under the terms of your travel insurance policy directly with your insurance provider. Travel Insurance is compulsory and should be obtained at the time You commit to the Adventure.

7) Cancellation by EO (tour numbers): EO may cancel the Adventure if EO considers that the number of persons booked on the Adventure is insufficient for EO to run the Adventure. You may not claim any costs, loss or damages (whether direct or indirect) from EO in connection with any cancellation of the Adventure for such reason, including for any time incurred or inconvenience suffered, gear purchases, flights booked or vaccinations obtained. However, all or any part of the Price already paid by You will be refunded to You, less any bank charges or fees incurred at the time You paid the Price.

8) Cancellation or other changes by EO (other): in the case of inclement weather, snowy or icy conditions, conditions that EO reasonably considers may make any part of the Adventure unduly risky, or any political military, terrorist threat or due to a variation to or introduction of a government travel warning after the date You book the Adventure, EO reserves the right to change the start date of the Adventure, the end date, the duration, the route, to cancel or postpone or delay the Adventure if EO considers that there may be a risk to the safety of participants, or to a third party providing those services if such conditions exist or may reasonably exist. You acknowledge that in the event of any such change, cancellation, postponement or delay You have no right to claim any costs, loss, damages (whether direct or indirect) or refund from EO. You also acknowledge that EO is not obligated to inform You of any government travel warning that may apply and that You have or have had the opportunity to check any government travel warnings that may be in place.

9) Warranties and representations: You warrant and represent to EO that:

a) You are in good health and are mentally and physically fit at the time of booking this Adventure;

b) You have disclosed every matter concerning your health and wellness of which You are aware or ought reasonably be aware and/or expected to know that is relevant to EO permitting You to participate on this Adventure;

c) You will notify EO as soon as You become aware if your health and fitness is adversely affected in any way prior to the start of the Adventure, or during the Adventure so that EO can assess whether to permit You to participate or continue to participate in the Adventure;

d) EO may disclose medical information about You to its consultant doctor (if applicable);

e) You have sought medical advice as to your suitability for this Adventure or, You have elected not to seek medical advice for this purpose and wholly accept the risk of not having obtained such advice;

f) EO has not made any representations to You in connection with the Adventure other than those contained in these Terms and Conditions;

g) You are fully aware that the Adventure involves challenging trekking at high altitudes and You have satisfied yourself that You have the requisite skills and experience necessary for You to participate in the Adventure or You will ensure that You have the requisite skills and experience prior to the day of the Adventure;

h) It may or may not be possible for You to insure yourself in relation to the Adventure, including the high altitude aspects of the Adventure

i) You have made all due and independent enquiries in adventure travel, high altitude trekking and expeditions similar to the Adventure; and

j) During the Adventure, You will follow the instructions of the Guide leading the Adventure, noting that those instructions in many circumstances will relate to the safety and wellbeing of participants in the Adventure.

10) Adventure Guides: EO will nominate a suitably experienced Guide to lead your Adventure. However, EO reserves the right at any time to change the nominated Guide and replace that Guide with another suitably experienced Guide. You may not claim any costs, loss, damages (whether direct or indirect) or refund from EO for any change to an Adventure Guide or any other staff engaged by EO for your Adventure.

11) Exclusion from Adventure (health and fitness): if for any reason, the Guide, as nominated by EO, considers, in the Guide's absolute discretion, that You should not participate in the Adventure for reasons associated with your health and wellness, despite You having obtained a medical clearance to do so, the Guide may exclude You from the Adventure, either before or during the Adventure. If on such grounds the Guide excludes You from the Adventure before the Adventure commences, then any refund will be in accordance with condition 6 as if You had cancelled during the timeframes stated in that clause. However, if the Guide excludes You from the Adventure on such grounds after the Adventure commences for any reason, no refund of the Price (or part of the Price) will be payable to You except in the absolute discretion of EO.

12) Exclusion from Adventure (other): The Guide may, in the Guide's absolute discretion, exclude You from the Adventure if You engage in any illegal act, or the Guide considers that your behaviour is or is reasonably likely to cause danger, distress or nuisance to any other participant on the Adventure, including staff engaged by EO for your Adventure. In connection with such exclusion, You must follow the instructions of the Guide. You will not be entitled to any refund of the Price (or any part of it) in connection with any such exclusion and it is a matter for You to insure for this, if You can, as You may consider appropriate, reasonable, and appropriate or co-ventures You for all risks that may apply to You as a participant on the Adventure.

13) Information and Trip Notes: EO provides information and prepares Trip Notes in good faith. EO may make reasonable changes to any Adventure itinerary, services or route having regard to timing of the Adventure or for any reason considered necessary by EO or if it receives advice to do so.

14) Insurance: Travel insurance is compulsory for all trips. Insurance for You is not included in the Price. You acknowledge that it is your responsibility to make enquiries about and obtain and maintain appropriate insurance to cover You in connection with the Adventure, if possible. EO may ask You for your insurance details and You must provide those details to EO promptly but EO is not obliged to check that the insurance You obtain is reasonable, appropriate or covers You for all risks that may apply to You as a participant on the Adventure.

15) Travel documents: It is your responsibility to obtain the appropriate travel documents for entry to the country where the Adventure is to take place. EO will be responsible for applying for any permits that are relevant to the Adventure, but only to the extent listed as inclusions in the Trip Notes.

16) Airlines, flights: EO recommends that You obtain flexible flights for the Adventure as sometimes Adventures can be delayed due to events such as inclement weather and internal flights. You are liable for any costs You may incur in connection with your flights should timing of your Adventure change. You may not claim any costs, loss or damages (whether direct or indirect) from EO in connection with any change to the Adventure or your participation in the Adventure resulting in You incurring additional costs in connection with your flights.

17) Privacy: You agree that You:

- a) permit EO, its agents or assigns to collect personal information from You, or from your medical practitioner, regarding your health and wellness, including any medical conditions You may have or have had previously. You acknowledge that this information may be disclosed to EO representatives in order to ensure your safety and wellbeing in connection with the Adventure, but will not be used by them for any other purpose; and
- b) will respect the privacy of the Guides and fellow participants in the Adventure and not do anything that is deemed by EO to be an invasion of their privacy.

18) Image and Likeness: You grant EO the right to take and use photographs and videos of You and your personal effects in connection to your participation in the Adventure. In consideration for You participating in the Adventure, You authorise EO, its assigns and transferees to copyright, use and publish your image and likeness in print and/or electronically for marketing purposes, and the like.

19) Force Majeure: If EO is prevented (directly or indirectly) from performing any of its obligations under its agreement with You by reason of act of god, strikes, trade disputes, breakdowns, interruption of transport, government or political action, acts of war, terrorism, acts or omissions of a third party or for any other cause whatsoever outside of EO's reasonable control, EO will not be liable for any costs, loss or damage You may suffer as a result and EO may cancel the Adventure and condition 8 will apply.

20) Assumption of Risk: You acknowledge that:

- a) Adventure travel, expeditions and trekking holidays are by their nature physically and mentally challenging and carry higher level of risk than a standard holiday, with potential exposure to risk of injury, death and loss to property;
- b) High altitude trekking is inherently dangerous and, of itself, carries the risk of injury, death and loss to property;
- c) Standards of accommodation, transport, healthcare, hygiene, safety and service providers are likely not to be as high in the region of the Adventure as in your country of origin;
- d) your Adventure will likely require You to travel on difficult, challenging and dangerous terrain, at high altitude, in extreme weather conditions, in remote locations with minimal or no telecommunications and with sudden changes to Adventure arrangements, and political stability in the region of the Adventure;
- e) there are inherent dangers associated with adventure travel, You have considered those dangers and, nevertheless, You have elected to participate in the Adventure and accept all risk associated with your participation in the Adventure, including risk of injury, death, and loss to property; and
- f) EO is not liable for and You may not make any claim against EO for or in connection with the acts, omissions or negligence of third parties who may provide goods and/or services to EO or to You for the Adventure.

21) Release and Waiver of Liability: In consideration for EO accepting your booking on the Adventure and You being permitted by EO to join the Adventure, to the extent permitted by law:

- a) You indemnify and keep indemnified and release, discharge, waive, hold harmless EO and its officers, employees, agents, licensees, Guides and other representatives of EO from all claims, actions, costs and losses (whether direct or indirect) which may arise out of or occur in connection with the Adventure, whether arising or occurring before, during or after the Adventure, including in relation to any negligence caused or contributed to by any or all of those listed above; and
- b) You waive any claims You have or may at any time have against EO and its officers and employees and, as You accept the risks associated with your participation in the Adventure, You agree not to make any claim against EO its officers and employees for any personal injury, property loss or any other loss of any kind that You may suffer or incur in connection with the Adventure, whether before, during or after the Adventure.

22) No waiver: a party will not be deemed to have waived any of its rights or remedies under these Terms and Conditions or at law by allocating any time or indulgence or by not exercising any right or remedy arising out of any default by the other party.

23) Australian Consumer Law

a) Under the Australian Consumer Law statutory guarantees apply to the supply of 'recreational services' of the kind offered by the Terms and Conditions. 'Recreational services' is defined as including activities that involve a significant degree of physical exertion or risk undertaken for the purposes of recreation, enjoyment or leisure. These guarantees mean that EO, its officers, servants, agents or assigns as the supplier, is required to ensure that the recreational services it supplies to You are rendered with due care and skill and are fit for their intended purpose.

b) Under Australian Consumer Law, EO, its officers, servants, agents or assigns, as supplier, is entitled to ask You to agree that these statutory guarantees will not apply to You. Therefore, please note that if you sign and/or submit this form to EO, You will be agreeing that your rights under EO's agreement with You, if you are killed or injured because the service provided are not rendered in accordance with these statutory guarantees, are excluded, restricted or modified in the way set out in this condition.

c) To the extent permitted by law, You hereby exclude, release and forever discharge EO, its officers, servants, agents or assigns for all liability for any and all claim, loss, damage, cost or expense arising from your death or your suffering physical or mental injury or any other condition, occurrence, activity, form of behaviour, course of conduct or state of affairs as specified in Section 139A of the Consumer and Competition Act 2010 (Cth) (except in the case of liability arising from the reckless conduct on the part of EO, its officers, servants, agents or assigns and your participation in the recreational activities which comprise the Adventure.

24) Jurisdiction and Applicable Law: Your booking, the Terms and Conditions, and the rights and obligations of the parties in connection with the Adventure, are governed exclusively by the jurisdiction and law of Australia and you and EO submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of Queensland, Australia.

25) Definitions:

a) Agreement or agreement means the Booking Form and these Terms and Conditions, and any variation of them agreed to in writing by the parties

b) Guide means any guide engaged by EO for the Adventure, whether as an employee, contractor or in any other capacity

c) Adventure means the adventure for which You have booked and any trip substituted for that adventure in accordance with these Terms and Conditions

d) High altitude trekking and climbing includes the actions of walking, trekking, backpacking, using ropes, crampons and other climbing equipment and may involve being on challenging terrain such as uneven trails, dirt trails, rock, ice and snow.

e) Trip Notes means the trip notes we have provided to You for the Adventure.

f) You or you means you as the participant in the Adventure and as a party bound by these Terms and Conditions.

26) Interpretation: 'include' or 'including' is to be read without limitation.

27) Severance: If any part of these Terms and Conditions are found to be illegal, unenforceable or invalid, then the relevant part will be severed unless to do so would cause the Terms and Conditions to be frustrated.
